

Lex Hartman

CEO of ubitrlicity

Lex Hartman's 25 years of management experience as a CEO in the energy and infrastructure branch in corporate and scale-up, regulated, and commercial companies include: Developing and building large infrastructure projects, like BritNed and Nordlink. Multiple M&As as CEO TenneT Germany, Board TenneT holding, and CEO ubitrlicity GmbH (part of the Shell Group). He is well-connected and well-known in the energy world (political and business). Holds various advisory board positions in other companies. Presents strong leadership, maintaining and nurturing growth, defining strategic goals, and ensuring unique lucrative market positioning.

Lex Hartman, born 1956 in Rotterdam, took the post as CEO of ubitrlicity in May 2019. Prior to this, he had worked for the Dutch-German transmission system operator TenneT for 20 years. At TenneT, the former lawyer was a member of the Executive Board of TenneT Holding BV from 2008 on. In 2010 he became the Managing Director of the German subsidiary TenneT TSO GmbH.

In addition to his professional activities, he gives keynotes and motivational lectures for executives. His personal interests range from sports to technology with a focus on disruptive technological developments and their impact on society.